

THOUSANDS THROG FAIR AT POMONA

Los Angeles County Exposition, Which Is Called the Finest Ever, Will Attract
150,000 During Week

The gates of the Los Angeles County Fair, which is one of the foremost exhibitions of its type in the West, were flung wide open at 9 o'clock this morning, and thousands of people who had stood in line for several hours were admitted to the air grounds at Pomona.

Pronounced by exhibitors who arrived yesterday from the fairs of northern circuits as the outstanding show on the coast this year, the Pomona spectacle is brilliant beyond expectation. The advance sale of tickets has exceeded anything in the past, according to the fair officials, and it is estimated that this year's attendance will reach the 150,000 mark.

To glimpse the huge main tent is to vision fairyland, and visitors who obtained a pre-view yesterday were lavish in their praise of the decorative scheme, which is Spanish throughout and richly embellished with dazzling colors and lights.

The Spanish motif is applied in a varied array; hand-painted lectures of the various California missions mark wall spaces anywhere from 50 to 100 feet long, and repose against such background are banded Southern California's fairest fruits and flowers, the greatest of her mechanical devices, while the most delicate of her art designs vie with each other for attention.

County Exhibit Is Remarkable

Upland has no personal display this year, but the San Bernardino county exhibit stands out as one of the loveliest at the show. A huge three-tiered pedestal, banked solid with oranges, grapes and apples and topped by life-sized horse on which ravenly rides Juan de Anza, the first-known explorer to enter an Bernardino valley marks the center of the main tent; three fountains, spouting from ornate heads, at the base of the display, are indicative of the bounty's abundance of water, while the words "San Bernardino County" in scintillating gold letters completes a picture that eggars description. The beautiful exhibit was erected under the supervision of Lyman S. Rich of the Gate City and is proudly holding its own with the other county displays.

UPLAND AT THE FAIR

Although Upland has no official exhibit at the Los Angeles county fair, with a number of local people displaying personal features, Upland is taking a deep interest in the fair, and the next few days will see many people from here motoring to the fair grounds to view the exhibits. Following are a few of the Upland people who are exhibiting at the fair, and as no doubt there are many others their names will be printed in The News along with their winnings just as soon as they are known.

Among those who are showing handicraft work are Mrs. H. G. Humble and Mrs. G. Ledig. Those entering prize-winning chickens are L. N. Kirk, Charles G. Wheeler, George Tyler and Ray Gage, and some of the finest rabbit pens were entered by George Stamm and Paul Gage.

Charles Gage, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gage, is again in charge of the junior department and a number of local boys are in charge of the Chaffey Junior Farm Center exhibit.

Another county exhibit that will come in for its share of praise is that of Orange county, which holds one of the largest spaces in the big tent, setting against a huge hand-painted canvas of the foothills and a miniature San Juan Capistrano mission, faithful to the least detail; perfectly scaled such of the work on the tiny mission was done under a magnifying glass so that each tiny vein and crack is a perfect replica of the San Juan Capistrano of today. The "grounds" surrounding the mission buildings are perfectly landscaped and the whole feature is framed in a lattice of glittering silver in which are placed the finest, bluish oranges that Orange county has to offer. Dazzling spotlights shed a soft pink and blue radiance over the whole, a beautiful spectacle and Orange county can well be proud of its exhibit.

Lesser features have been entered by the small towns, and among the latter are entries from the Ontario chamber of commerce and the La Verne chamber of commerce that are very indeed. Depicted in the

PARENT-TEACHER CONGRESS MEETS HERE ON FRIDAY

Fifth District Will Hold Big
Session at Presbyterian Church

Beautifully in keeping with the opening of schools here this week and stressing the point for both parents and children that the vacation days are over, will be the all-day meeting of the Fifth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers, which will be held on Friday, Sept. 21st, at the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. A. W. Burt, president of the Fifth District, will preside at both the morning and afternoon sessions, and she will also introduce the various speakers.

This meeting is a pretentious one in Parent-Teacher circles and a cordial invitation is extended to all those who are interested in the work to attend the sessions.

Lunch will be served at noon under the direction of the Frances Paul Girls, and following is the complete program for the day.

10:00 a. m.—Call to order, invocation, music. Words of welcome, Col Wallace Taylor, Upland Board of Education. Response, Mrs. T. R. Carlisle, Past President Fifth District, member San Bernardino Board of Education.

10:15 a. m.—Reading of minutes. Business.

10:45 a. m.—Introduction district officers and chairmen, Miss Ida Collins, County Supt. of Schools.

11:00 a. m.—Relation of Parent-Teacher Associations to the National State and District Organizations. Mrs. H. L. Backs, Anaheim.

11:30 a. m.—Parent-Teacher Work. Mrs. Shelton Bissell, San Dimas, State Chairman P. T. A. in high schools.

12:00—Lunch served by Frances Paul class. Music in charge of Mrs. C. L. Emmons, Ontario Council President.

1:15—Call to order. Speakers for the afternoon are: Prof. Mather of Chaffey, who speaks on Legislation; Mrs. J. L. Thornton of Los Angeles, state publicity chairman; Mrs. F. O. McCulloch, past state president; Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, Garden Grove, 4th state vice-president and director of public welfare.

La Verne display is an immense globe topped by a tiny packing house; a mechanical device on the inside of the globe keeps the sphere revolving while at the same time a tiny elevator carries tiny oranges to the packing building, and they go tumbling around the globe until they are lost in an open slot at the base of the display. The feature is extremely clever and does credit to them who devised it.

Armstrong Nurseries
To fall to say a word about the Armstrong Nurseries display would be to leave out one of the finest entries of the whole show. Remembering the Armstrong Nurseries exhibits of other years, one still is not prepared for the elaborate feature that has been entered this year.

Holding the place of honor at the very entrance to the large main tent, this feature is in a class all by itself. Standing at the outer edge or gate, as it were, of the display, one glimpses down a long vista a raised dial covered with velvet and having for its background a heavy curtain of rich material. Three Famous Entomologists

MANY NOTES ARE TAKEN

Bodenhamer Grove Inspected
Under Direction of Anderson, Woglum

Three internationally famous entomologists today have notes on how fumigation and care of the local citrus groves are conducted.

William B. Gurney, government entomologist, Sydney, Australia; Bernard Trouvelot, professor of horticulture and entomologist of the Institute of Agricultural Research, Versailles, and Dr. Filippo Silvestri, professor of agriculture, Italy, were in Upland last night and inspected the fumigation being conducted on the Paul Bodenhamer ranch, Twenty-first street and Mountain avenue.

They came from Los Angeles to see the method of killing pests and to get ideas on the methods of caring for the trees. Many notes were taken. The noted men will soon return to their countries.

R. S. Woglum, entomologist of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, and W. E. Landon, assistant entomologist, brought the officials here and with Fred Anderson, county horticulture inspector, went to the Bodenhamer grove.

The fumigation method is a new one to the visitors and their keen interest indicated that they were going to return with timely information.

Mr. Woglum explained that the three men were outstanding entomologists and described them as among the greatest men in that profession.

Meeting of Committees Is Called For Friday—Canvass Starts Monday

Final plans for an intensive canvass in the interests of the Upland airport will be discussed at a meeting of two special committees and directors of the Legion Airport corporation in the American Legion club house Friday night.

The canvass will start Monday morning, according to the tentative arrangements. At the meeting will be a committee of the chamber of commerce, composed of William Springer, J. W. Mehl and Godfrey Andreas. The American Legion will be represented by a committee composed of Robert Klindt, I. J. Linkey and Jack D. Howe.

RADIO FANS, ATTENTION!

pace in front of the dial is an archway or facade, which is a true replica of the arches of general life at Granada, Spain, and an outstanding feature of this archway is the hand-painted mosaic that marks the top panel. Fronting the arch is a long, narrow pond whose surface is dotted with water lilies, while banking the pool are the finest shrubs and plants that the Armstrong nurseries have to offer. Rare palm trees further enhance the display and the whole beautiful, restful ensemble is just the frame for the velvet-covered dial which is banked solid with cut roses that seemingly grow right out from the velvet background, for the vases which hold the blooms are concealed in grooves in the dial. J. A. Gooch, who is at the head of the landscaping department at the Armstrong nurseries, is responsible for the artistic feature and he is to be congratulated.

Parking facilities for automobiles have been considerably enlarged and will provide ample facilities convenient to the fair ground.

At the horse show, which will be a feature of each evening, some of the finest horses in the country will be exhibited and the night affairs will include classes for the heavy harness ponies, roadsters, hunters and jumpers.

CLAREMONTER RIDES AT AGE OF 89

L. P. Judson of Claremont, who is starting his ninetyeth year, has for many years since he passed the three-score and ten attained to by so few people now-a-days, been posing for his picture, generally on horseback.

For Judson was a cavalryman during the Civil war and there is nothing he appreciates more to this day than fine horsethief. In the picture shown herewith we see Judson on the occasion of his eighty-ninth birthday, August 27, as he was photographed at the W. K. Kellogg stables in Pomona, on Nasik, a blooded, imported Arabian.

The fine steeds of Mr. Kellogg, the well-known cereal food manufacturer of Michigan, who maintains a summer home there at Gull lake, near Battle Creek are widely known throughout the state and even nation.

L. P. Judson was born in Medina, Ohio, August 27, 1839. Medina is a little farming community, about 40 miles south of Cleveland, where the farmer-folk held good horses in high esteem. Judson entered the war for the blue forces in September, 1860, joining up with the Second Ohio cavalry. He was honorably discharged because of serious illness in 1862.

For the past year and a half he has made his home in Claremont and still enjoys great activity. In recent years he has driven his Ford coupe to the coast from Ohio on two occasions. For 29 years Judson was deacon in the church of Rev. H. S. Mills, who now also makes his home in our neighboring college city.

MATHER PREDICTS JUDICIAL REFORMS

Chaffey Educator Speaks Before Upland Masons on Monday

Three big reforms in our judicial systems are not far distant, W. W. Mather of the Chaffey faculty told the Upland Masons Monday evening in the educational talk he gave at a special communication of Upland lodge No. 419.

Reducing of the excessive power of appeal, which benefits in the great majority of cases only those with money; substitution of professional jurors for the present laymen jurors, and a speeding up of cases, are the three ways in which greater justice will be brought about, stated Mr. Mather, who himself is a member of the California bar, although he does not practice.

Mr. Mather's talk was very enlightening and interesting. He touched on the history of courts from the very earliest days, and then in much detail told of the complicated organization of our courts, both in the state and nation. The lawyers have organized, stated the speaker, to bring about a higher code of ethics in the profession and to create a greater respect for the law. On their work in the near future will depend much of the stability of our courts and in the faith of the people in them.

The Chaffey educator gave the same address before the Masons of Ontario last Friday evening and, as was the case at Upland last evening, Mr. Mather's talk made a splendid impression.

Following the address work in the first degree was exemplified.

Two Weeks to Show Citrus Shipments of 144 Carloads Here

Report from the Ontario-Cucamonga fruit exchange show that shipments of Valencia and lemons are still going strong. Last week shows a total of 33 cars oranges and 33 cars lemons, while this week is balanced up by 48 cars oranges and 33 lemons, a total of 144 cars for two weeks. Practically all the houses are working and will be for some time.

Mrs. A. T. Hayman, Second avenue, and her sister, Mrs. J. Schrader, spent Monday in San Bernardino.

Chaffey Students Capture Both Individual and Team Honors at Ventura Fair

While two Chaffey stock judging teams took second and third prizes at the Ventura county fair last week, two first individual prizes were won by two of the boys—Howard Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hawkins of Upland and Fletcher Palmer of Ontario.

Howard Hawkins is one of the three on Chaffey's "A" team, which won second out of ten teams competing. The Upland boy, however, made the highest individual score, both in judging stock and reasons. He and Mr. Palmer also received special recognition from one of the official judges as being two of the best amateur judges he

Sidelights On School Opening

A good whistle and the husky lungs of Harold Cook, principal of the Upland junior high school, keep the classes at the new building going on schedule. A system of clocks, electrically controlled, with the master clock automatically ringing the classes' bells, is being installed today. In the meantime Mr. Cook blows a whistle.

One pair of twins is in the new junior high. They are Robert and Betty Townsend.

Five new teachers are in the new building. Russell Dysart, William Andrews, Anna L. Rohrig, Edith Knowles and Lydia Novak are the newcomers.

"Everything is going as scheduled" in the Upland grammar school buildings," Miss Fannie Noe, superintendent of the local schools, said. "The third and fourth grades are crowded. Something will have to be done about that."

At noon today Miss Noe took the part of an ice cream dispenser, serving the hungry students. The cafeteria will be in operation soon. But the students, evidently, crave ice cream on hot days, so Miss Noe was kept busy.

The corridors were crowded during the noon hour with curious boys and girls, inspecting the new building. With one hand many of them were investigating locks, doors and the new furniture, while with the other they were holding a sandwich and munching away.

Perhaps the junior highs will get a football diamond yet. If the Upland board of education can assure the officials of a field that will be kept in condition the equipment will be furnished by Chaffey union high school.

Flood Lights To Be Tried Tonight

Flood lights will be thrown on the new Upland junior high school for the first time tonight. The contractors, members of the board of education and other officials interested in the building of the structure, will be at the educational institution at 8 o'clock tonight, when the lighting system will be tried, according to an announcement today.

MURDER MYSTERY CAR DISCOVERED

Auto Formerly Owned by Northcott in Ontario—
Blood Gives Clue

Interest in the Northcott murder farm mystery, which has held all Southern California agog since 15-year-old Sanford Clark made a confession in which he accused his uncle, Gordon Stuart Northcott, of torturing and murdering four boys on his ranch south of Wineville, shifted to the West End today, when Northcott's blood-stained automobile was located in an Ontario second-hand car market.

The car is now the property of W. B. Rundle, who purchased it from Northcott on August 22 last, and is on display at 22 sales yard, A street and Plum avenue, Ontario. It is a "splashed," much "dolled-up" sports Kissel roadster and anyone who had once seen it could scarcely fail to recognize it.

What bears all the earmarks of a large bloodstain is found on the under portion of the canvas cover of a spare tire, which is carried on the right-hand side of the car. In talking with a reporter this morning, Mr. Rundle stated that when he purchased the machine from Northcott it had very evidently just undergone a cleaning, but apparently the stain on the tire cover, which is on the under side and not noticeable at first glance, had apparently been overlooked. No tests have as yet been made in an effort to prove whether or not the stain is that of human blood, but those who have viewed it are agreed that it so appears. The car bears a Hollywood nameplate.

Northcott was well known hereabouts and was a frequent visitor at the West Main street plant of the Ontario Feed and Milling company, of which he was a customer.

CHARLES LATIMER MAKES FINE OFFER

Ontario Man Pledges His Aid
For Care of Crippled
Child

The weekly meeting of Upland Rotarians today at the Sycamores was featured by a very generous offer of Charles Latimer of Ontario to provide all expenses necessary for sending any crippled Upland child to an orthopedic hospital, should such care be found necessary. Mr. Latimer's pledge to stand by such a child until all possible aid was done deeply impressed the club.

G. A. Hanson, chairman of the club's committee for crippled children, told of the great work that had been done in bringing great physical relief to two former Upland children.

The club members heard of the death of Allen L. Moser, brother of Cleo Moser, with sincere sympathy and Dr. A. L. Weber paid a splendid tribute to the heroic fighting spirit of the young man who has just lost a battle with death.

The club session closed with a very enlightening talk on the citrus industry by Harry Har-

ALLEN MOSER A Character Sketch by Mer- ton E. Hill

For many years Allen Moser has been an inspiration to all who have been privileged to know him. His wonderful spirit, his indomitable courage and the serenity of his disposition gave courage and faith to his friends.

As a little boy, and later as a high school student, always courteous, obliging and friendly, he was a source of great help wherever he was found. He did his work well. After months of suffering he returned to Chaffey, and although handicapped in many ways, he fulfilled all requirements for graduation and did his work better than many who were highly privileged.

He was a loyal friend and faithful; a young American of exemplary character; a Christian with faith and fortitude; his influence will live in the lives of others for all time.

The death of Allen L. Moser, well-known Upland young man and Chaffey high school graduate, Monday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Moser, West Twenty-first street, following a heroic fight of almost five years against the relentless attack of infection, came as a deep personal shock to this entire community who had known of Allen's splendid but unavailing battle against disease. Release from physical suffering came to the brave boy at the age of 23 years and 7 months.

The death of this fine, wholesome young man of outstanding physique was due to infection in his senior year in high school that followed a slight injury to one knee while playing basketball in the Chaffey gymnasium. It was the same kind of injury that brought death to the son of President and Mrs. Coolidge a few years ago. Thought to be only of slight consequence at first, the infection took deep hold on the 6-foot frame of Allen Moser and in spite of all that medical science and loving and constant care could do the insidious disease more tightly held the young man in its grip. After two years of brave, up-hill, day and night fighting, the young man rallied to the extent that he could get into an automobile and come to Chaffey high school. There he would sit in the car while Dr. Hill, Earnest Fischer and Prof. Homewood would hear his lessons. So well did he apply himself that by these trips to the school and with calls from Dr. Hill at his home that he was able to finish his work for graduation and secure his diploma. Elsewhere in this column his teacher and friend pay a marvelous tribute to the lad.

The respite against the strange ailment was short, for in a few brief weeks the disease redoubled its efforts to claim Allen. Parents, brother and sister and friends did all in human power possible to throw off the grip of the malady, but to no avail. Amid the suffering of the long days and nights not once did Allen Moser complain and, hoping against hope, he remained a miracle of good cheer and optimism. His bravery through it all has aroused the deepest sympathy of all who knew him. Bedfast as he was, he still "carried on" and did weaving, embroidery and other such work to break the monotony of the long hours. This spring the strong, manly body began to fail more and more and it was seen that death could not long be delayed. With his loved ones by his side he slipped away from earth yesterday afternoon. Allen Moser was born in Upland and had spent his entire life here. Of strong athletic type, he was a manly lad of true American home-loving type and his passing so early in life is a distinct loss to his community. He was a member of the Methodist church and leaves a life of Christian integrity as his memorial.

There survive the parents, one sister, Miss Ruby Moser, at home, and one brother, Cleo Moser, of this city, agent for the Pacific Electric.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3 p. m. at Draper's chapel at Ontario, with interment in Bellevue cemetery. His pastor, Rev. James A. Stavely, will be in charge, assisted by Rev. Charles A. Kent of Fullerton, a former pastor of the same church.

Dairymen Meet in Ontario Tonight

Dairymen of the West End, including three local firms, will meet in the office of the Ontario-Upland creamery at 7 o'clock tonight and discuss the situation pertaining to the retail sale of milk.

TODAY'S BIBLE TEXT

Let us reason together, said the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow.—Isaiah 1:18.

SUCCESS COMES IN CANS

"If you think you're beaten, you are;
If you think you dare not, don't;
If you'd like to win, but you think you can't,
It's almost a cinch you won't.

"If you think you'll lose, you're lost;
For out in the world we find
Success begins with a fellow's will;
It's all the state of mind.

"If you think you're out-classed, you are;
You've got to think big to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.

"Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But soon or late the man who wins
Is the one who thinks he can."

Oh, You Straw Hat!

Yes, my friends, the men folks around the Upland News office went back to wearing straw hats today (Monday, Sept. 17) even if style and tradition say that after Sept. 15 straw hats are taboo. With the mercury playing tag around the 90 mark, it would be about as sensible to wear a soft hat today as it would be to go down Second avenue dressed in a rain barrel.

What becomes of all the straw hats, anyway? asks an exchange. Well, some of us keep them until the straw drops off from the weight of icicles around the edges. We just looked inside the top of our time-honored lid bought back in Michigan and found that we paid $3.00 for it at a store which went out of business two or three years ago. There is one straw hat which has served its day and generation well. Now, if some Upland merchant will put on a straw hat sale about Thanksgiving time we shall be in the market for another top piece.

Wanted—A California Heretic

We went to the Michigan picnic at Los Angeles Saturday afternoon and heard again what a grand and glorious state is California. Even the preacher who gave the invocation had something to say about this favored clime.

Would anyone go back East to live? Oh, my! No! No, never! Such treason!

Personally we hate to see things so one-sided and would like to find someone who would rise up and say a good word for the states back East. Let him stand up and say: "Yes, sir, California is fine and all that; the flowers are gorgeous; the oranges are sweet; the sky is blue, and the nights are diadems of beauty, but at the same time how can I ever forget Michigan and its charm and glory, its changing weather, its fields of beauty, its woods of changing lights and colors; its winding rivers; its limpid lakes; its broad countryside with the shocks of corn running off to meet the horizon. Let me feel again the drip, drip of a Michigan rain down my neck, or even feel the snow whipping around my frost-bitten face. Let me go out and see where the frost has hit the pumpkin."

Probably there are no such heretics hereabouts. Everyone seems to be in love with California and the movement to depopulate the rest of the United States and to put the folks all in Southern California goes merrily on. Upland gets bigger and better—ten years from now you won't know the place. So we will close the meeting by all arising and singing that good old anthem:

"California, here we come!"

California's Biggest Fair

All being well, tomorrow evening we shall go to Pomona to see what one Uplander told us today was the "greatest fair in California."

We are wondering wherein a California country fair will be different than a Michigan one. Back there we used to say: "When you have seen one fair you have seen them all." The Los Angeles county fair is not like that, we know. Upland can be proud that it has such a fine representation at the big fair. This little city will get some fine advertising from the noted exposition.

Why Ford Is For Hoover

This is why Henry Ford is for Hoover. He says: "The worst thing that could happen to this country would be a step backward in our fight against liquor. I am interested in anything to keep the eighteenth amendment as it is. If Hoover stands on that belief, and I am sure he does, I am for him. Repeal of the amendment would be a calamity, but there is no possibility of it. Personally, I'd turn out the army and navy to stop bootlegging. If the law were changed we'd have to shut up our plants. Everything in the United States is keyed up to a new pace, which started with prohibition. The speed at which we run our motor cars, operate our intricate machinery and generally live would be impossible with liquor. No, there is no chance even of modification."

Today's Question

Who is the stingiest person in Upland?

American Legion Day

At Pomona Fair—Sunday, September 23, which will be the last and doubtless the largest day of the Los Angeles county fair, to be held in Pomona, September 18-23, has been designated as American Legion day, and posts of the American Legion and their auxiliary throughout Southern California are planning to take the fair by storm on that day, according to the commander of Post 30 of Pomona.

Four Southern California Legion drum and bugle corps, all prize winners at the 1928 state convention of the American Legion, held last month at Stockton, will take part in an exhibition to be held in front of the grandstand in connection with the regular fair program of the afternoon. The prize winning American Legion band of Ontario, Cal., will furnish the music for the regular program and lead the grand march of the drum corps. The entertainment will start promptly at 1 p. m. and continue until 5 p. m.

The Pomona Legion drum and bugle corps will act as hosts on this occasion, serving as a reception committee to the host of visiting Legionnaires and their friends. This is the first time in the history of the Los Angeles county fair that a day has been designated for recognition of any organization and the Legionnaires are looking forward to the day as an opportunity to contribute a new attraction to the Sunday program.

Bank Club Outing

At Camp Baldy—

Eighty-five members of the Los Angeles First National Bank Club of Pasadena attended a week-end party at Camp Baldy on September 15-16. The activities included a swimming party on Saturday afternoon, followed by a banquet in the main dining room at Camp Baldy and dancing in the open-air pavilion under the spreading oak trees. A horseback trip to the top of Old Baldy on Sunday was enjoyed by many members of the party.

Miss Chambers will wear a simply smart gown of yellow satin and tulle with picture hat and slipper to match and she will carry an arm bouquet of yellow roses and sweet peas. Miss Smith will wear green orchid tulle with picture hat to match and will carry buff-colored rose buds and sweet peas, while Miss Beattie will be in pale pink tulle with hat to match and will carry pink roses and sweet peas.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids will precede the bride to the altar, and they will be followed by tiny Bernice Chambers, the flower girl, who will wear a diminutive frock of fluffy blue and who will scatter rose petals in the bride's path, while Master Carl Chambers, in a black velvet Fauntleroy, suit will carry the wedding ring on a white satin pillow.

Walter Hastings of Pasadena will serve Mr. Chambers as best man and Donald Roe and Isaiah Steiner will be the ushers.

Preceding the wedding, Mrs. Howard Cole (Alice Chilson) of Whittier, and herself a bride of reservations should be made at once with Mrs. Clara B. Price, Ontario 1635, or Mrs. Una R. Winter, Upland 225W.

The local campaign committee in charge of this affair is Mrs. Laura Taylor Kelley and Mrs. Winter of Upland; Mrs. Minnie Roloff and Mrs. Clara B. Price of Ontario, and Miss Marie Wilson and Miss Hazel Mize of Pomona.

As all women's clubs are non-partisan, this campaign work must be carried on outside of club organizations and club meetings, so a special meeting is called the evening of September 27th for all women interested in the election of Herbert Hoover for President. A large attendance is anticipated and, as accommodations at the hotel are limited, cording to the commander of Post 30 of Pomona.

The entertainment will start promptly at 1 p. m. and continue until 5 p. m.

The Pomona Legion drum and bugle corps will act as hosts on this occasion, serving as a reception committee to the host of visiting Legionnaires and their friends. Rev. Fr. Gushee Will Officiate

At Chambers-Trembley Wedding—

Myriad summer blossoms will lend their beauty this evening, and lighted candles in tall cathedral candelabras will shed their soft radiance over the lovely scene, when Miss Dorothy Trembley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Mrs. Hadzima Entertains

For Little Son—

"Too bad birthdays only come once a year," said Junior Hadzima, who was six years old last Sunday and whose mother, Mrs. J. G. Hadzima, entertained a group of children in honor of the event. The party was held at the Hadzima home on West street and a delicious birthday dinner, with a real birthday cake and all the trimmings, was a feature of the noon hour. In the afternoon games were enjoyed on the lawn and later Mrs. Hadzima served cream and cake to the little folks. Junior was the recipient of many lovely birthday remembrances and in the evening the hostess took the children to the Granada theater, where they saw "Four Sons."

Among those invited to help Junior celebrate were Amy Ann Hewett, Barbara and Dale Hewett, and Irene and Iva Cornett.

Chaffey J. C. Gets Student Who Comes Here From Berlin

Chaffey Junior college's wide recognition as an important agricultural institution is again attested with the arrival here of Leon Russata of Berlin, Germany, to study citriculture at the local institution.

Russata picked the Chaffey school for his studies after an investigation which led to his decision that it best fills the bill of his requirements, with its experimental citrus grove, its expert instructors and its many other advantages. Later he expects to take an advanced citrus course at one of the California universities. Russata is accompanied by his wife, who is also expected to take some classes at Chaffey. Mr. and Mrs. Russata spent some time in New York City before coming to California.

TWO GRID GAMES FOR THIS WEEK

Chaffey and Jaysee Will Tangle in Practice Tilts Here

Chaffey plays Corona here Friday.

That was the schedule today for the opening fracas in the 1928 grid season. And from indications several Upland players are going to get a chance in the opener.

The lightweight aggregation was scheduled to play, but there was no game on deck today, due to Citrus Union withdrawing the practice game.

The Walter Allen fleet of trucks has been employed for the last few weeks hauling grapes to San Pedro, and, beginning soon, the trucks will leave for Ventura, where they will bring back bean straw for the Upland and Ontario ranchers. For the benefit of the easterners, let us state that the bean straw, which is rich in nitrogen, is spread over the groves and later plowed under as a fertilizer.

The Chronicles of Canada, edited by George M. Wrong and H. H. Langton, are also ready for circulation.

Jimmie Colgan Is Bitten on Leg by Bob-Tailed Collie

Jimmie Colgan, 11-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Colgan, 469 Second avenue, was severely bitten on the left leg Saturday when he was attacked by a vicious dog on Laurel avenue.

At the San Antonio Community hospital, Dr. John B. Craig found it necessary to take several stitches to close a gash inflicted by the canine.

It was reported to the officers that the dog, a bog-tailed collie, while astray, had been playing peacefully with children in the neighborhood, but that when Jimmie arrived on the scene, distributing hand bills, the animal flew at him.

Officer C. S. Lehman dispatched the dog.

Mrs. Etta Johnston Entertains For Her Son—

Dr. Ivan Johnston, son of Mrs. Etta Johnston of West Eighth street, who arrived in Upland a few weeks ago from Harvard, where he graduated last year and where he will be connected with the research department during the coming school term, was the incentive for several charming social courtesies extended him by his mother and friends during the last week.

Last Friday Mrs. Johnston entertained with a delightfully informal dinner for her son, the menu being served at 7 o'clock and covers at the dinner table being indicated for the honor guest, Dr. Johnston, Dr. and Mrs. Philip Munz of Pomona, Mrs. Jennie Farnsworth and the hostess. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hawthorn (Inez Johnston) entertained with a smartly appointed 7 o'clock dinner for the visitor, the guest list for the affair including Dr. Johnston and his mother, Mrs. Etta Johnston, Mrs. Jennie Farnsworth and Mrs. Hazel Beecher of Inglewood. Dr.

Johnston left yesterday to return to Harvard, going first to Berkeley, where he will spend several days with friends, and also stopping for some time at St. Louis and New York City.
